

AUTODOC attracts top tech talent at Web Summit 2024

German online retailer showcases its growing tech hub and highlights job opportunities for tech professionals in Lisbon

Lisbon, 11 November 2024 — AUTODOC, a leading online retailer of vehicle spare parts and accessories in Europe, is set to make its debut at Web Summit 2024 in Lisbon, showcasing exciting career opportunities for tech professionals. With a rapidly expanding tech hub in Lisbon, AUTODOC is looking to attract top talent to help realize its technology-driven vision to become the leading tech ecosystem connecting the European automotive aftermarket.

Having established its tech hub in Portugal in May 2023, the new company location has quickly become the core of AUTODOC's technological innovation, supporting key business units and facilitating business development across Europe. The company is committed to creating cutting-edge technology solutions that ensure a seamless customer experience for vehicle owners in 27 European countries, optimize supply chains, and strengthen its leading position in both the B2C and B2B markets.

"We are at the forefront of digital transformation in the European automotive aftermarket, and everything we do is designed to make the customer experience better," says Dmitry Zadorozhny, CEO of AUTODOC. "This is why we are actively seeking the best and brightest tech talents to join our team in Lisbon, where they will have the opportunity to work on projects that directly shape the future of the industry."

At AUTODOC, technology is at the core of everything we do and it plays a key role in achieving our goal of becoming the go-to partner and first point of contact for our customers and efficiently providing comprehensive solutions all around their vehicle needs. From smart product recommendations and personalized user experiences on the company's websites and apps, to AI-driven tools for personalized customer support and optimized logistics solutions that streamline operations, the tech team is developing technology that drives business growth, customer satisfaction, and innovation.

At the heart of this effort is a commitment to always putting the customer first, one of AUTODOC's core values. "Everything we do at our tech hub aims to enhance the customer journey. Whether customers are searching for the right part in our web shop via a web browser or an app, using services like our online platform, AUTODOC CLUB, to manage their vehicle's needs, or, as B2B clients, seeking ways to maximize the performance and digitalization of their garage businesses, we strive to make the experience seamless and satisfying," explains Dmitry Zadorozhny.

As a leading employer for tech professionals in Europe, the AUTODOC team will look to engage with ambitious individuals looking for a stable and reliable workplace, exciting growth opportunities, and the chance to be part of a company that is constantly evolving to further expand its position in the European online retail market for vehicle parts and accessories. Open positions that we are actively recruiting for include roles in software development, data management and analytics, product and project management, and more.

"We are building an inclusive and collaborative culture where innovation thrives," adds Ana Sousa, Chief People Officer of AUTODOC. "At AUTODOC, we offer a dynamic work environment as we shape the future of vehicular e-commerce by pushing boundaries and embracing innovation. We are looking for passionate individuals who thrive on challenges and are eager to make a real impact. If you are ready to reshape the industry, AUTODOC is where you belong."

Attendees of Web Summit 2024 are invited to visit the AUTODOC team at Booth E278 in Pavilion 2 to learn more about the exciting career opportunities at our Lisbon tech hub and to explore the innovative technologies that we are developing to shape the future of the automotive aftermarket.
