LISBON, October 24, 2024 — Relocate Now (www.relocatenow.io) is excited to announce its expansion into the Spanish market. This move marks its first international market expansion of the Portuguese startup aiming to simplify the relocation and living-abroad experience worldwide through a featureful web app.

Relocate Now has already over 1,000 registered expats since it launched in Portugal late February 2024. This rapid growth demonstrates the strong demand for global expats services and the startup ability to simplify the relocation bureaucracies.

“We are thrilled to bring our technology-driven approach to relocation to Spain,” said Alvaro Araujo, CEO of Relocate Now. “The first months of our startup were very important to collect external and internal feedback to improve our software. We are now prepared to work on faster international expansion while continuing to look for more local partnerships and non-core services opportunities that can be value added for an expat. The Spanish expansion begins a new phase of our startup.”

The Spanish market is led by Sergi Garcés, an experienced immigration and international tax lawyer with an entrepreneurial spirit who has been working with expats and startups for more than 15 years. For him, “The Spanish market offers a vast market, with a growing number of expats looking for a vibrant lifestyle, work opportunities, and innovation-activities tax benefits. Relocate Now is focused on the expat needs and will be a facilitator to overcome the relocation process bureaucracies and reduce uncertainty on what is required to be fully compliant in Spain.”

What Relocate Now offers:

- Relocation services: Step by step guidance on the immigration processes
- Taxes services: Advisory and compliance tax services for expats;
- Living essentials services: Everything an expats may need from healthcare solutions to opening a local bank account;

- Housing services: Assistance finding houses to rent or purchase, mortgage assistance, or utility bills subscription;
- Expats community: Online community to connect expats for networking and living-abroad experiences sharing.
