

scouthub.vc Launches to Build World's Largest Local Scout Network for Web3 and Deep Tech

November 11, 2024, Web Summit, Lisbon – scouthub.vc has officially launched at Web Summit 2024 in Lisbon, aiming to streamline early-stage fundraising by connecting Web3 and Deep Tech startups with a powerful network of local scouts and investors. Initially focused on Europe, with plans to expand into Africa and Southeast Asia next year, scouthub.vc reshapes the way founders expand their network and connect with funding opportunities on a global scale.

“scouthub.vc bridges founders and investors by providing a fast-track for promising startups to access capital and for investors to discover high-quality, regionally rooted opportunities,” says Mikas Stankevicius, the Co-founder at scouthub.vc.

Local Expertise, Global Impact

scouthub.vc's approach leverages local scouts –industry insiders with deep market expertise –to guide founders through regional dynamics. With streamlined fundraising support, the scouthub.vc team connects founders to investors who align with their vision, creating a path for growth that's both targeted and impactful.

Democratizing Access to Capital

scouthub.vc connects startups with an extensive network of VCs, angels, family offices, and corporate venture arms, making capital more accessible while allowing founders to stay focused on their products and technology. By eliminating the traditional barriers to funding, scouthub.vc's network enables startups to break beyond local boundaries and access global opportunities without the distraction of time-intensive investor outreach.

“By combining local insights with global reach, we're enabling founders to scale and investors to access curated deal flow from emerging markets,” highlights Zivile Einikyte, the Co-founder at scouthub.vc

Why scouthub.vc?

For founders, scouthub.vc allows them to break out of their immediate networks and provides warm investor introductions so founders can focus on innovation, not cold outreach.

For investors, scouthub.vc delivers exclusive, vetted deal flow from target markets, combining global reach with local expertise to uncover high-potential opportunities aligned with specific investment goals.

Whether you're a founder seeking funding or an investor looking for the next big thing, scouthub.vc is here to ensure you find your best opportunities. Join the network now!
