

New Pickpad Model Unveil at Web Summit 2025

Pickpad, the CES 2025 and Fast Company 2025 Innovation by Design Awards winner, unveils its latest smart pickup model designed for the digital-native future of commerce.

Pickpad uses sensors + ML to make any restaurant or retail pickup area smart in just 30 minutes - creating a new interface for seamless operations between stores, customers, autonomous vehicles, and robots.

We're creating a new product category – the pickup pad – redefining the experience for restaurant and retail teams, and millions of people ordering their food, drinks, and go-to items every day.

Announced at Web Summit

Join us on November 11 at 12:00 (Pavilion 4, Booth E403 – Seeds of Bravery) for a live reveal and hands-on demo of the new model.
